The Underlying Index

The FTSE™ 100 Index represents the performance of shares in the most valuable companies listed on the London Stock Exchange. The components are the largest companies by Market Capitalisation (which measures the value of all the shares outstanding in that company, regardless of where they're held). The Index weights companies by size, so the largest companies in the Index have the greatest effect on its performance and most of these have strong international exposure, which means the Index isn't solely representative of the UK economy. The FTSE 100 Index is a Price Return Index and as such does not include the dividends paid by the individual companies.

Risks

All investments carry risk. Prior to investing in the Deposit Plan you need to make sure you fully understand the risks you are taking and accept these. Having read the Brochure and supporting material, if there are any areas that you are still unsure about, please consult with your financial adviser who will be able to help you.

Other Fees for Enhanced Option

An initial payment of 5.00% will be applied on the Enhanced Deposit Plan only. For example, a Total Initial Payment of 10,000 GBP will result in a Net Deposit Amount of 9,500 GBP invested into the Enhanced Deposit Plan.

Deposit Taker Risk

There is a risk that the Deposit Taker could go into administration, become bankrupt or collapse. This would mean that it could fail to make the payments due in relation to the Deposit Plan. In the event of this happening an Investor could lose some or all of their investment as well as any of the returns to which they may otherwise have been entitled.

Market Risk

Underlying index performance may be volatile and subject to unpredictable changes over the investment term. The value of your investment is affected by movements in the price of this Index and a fall may result in you not receiving any return on your Invested Capital. Your investment does not directly invest in the Underlying Index, therefore you are not eligible for dividends.

Early Redemption Risk

You should be prepared to hold the Deposit Plan until maturity. It may be possible, subject to normal market conditions and regulatory, legal and financial or other conditions of the Deposit Taker or its affiliates, to withdraw from the Deposit Plan before the Maturity Date. If you decide to encash the Deposit Plan early you may not get back your Invested Capital.

Market Disruption Events

It is possible that a market disruption event might occur, such as trading disruption, changes to an index, changes to index providers or changes in tax legislation. In these circumstances, the Deposit Taker has the right to determine whether any adjustments to the terms of the Deposit Plan are required. These adjustments may include but are not limited to: adjustments to the opening or final level of the Underlying Index, postponing observation dates and substitution of the Underlying Index. The Deposit Taker is required to act in good faith when making any adjustments.

Reinvestment Risk

To invest in the Deposit Plan, you need to deposit your capital for a set length of time. During this period, a rise or fall in interest rates may present other investment opportunities with a greater return. Should you decide to encash the Deposit Plan, you may get back less than your Invested Capital.

Inflation Risk

The value of your investment and any returns you may qualify for are not linked to inflation. If inflation is high over the term of the Deposit Plan, the real value of the Deposit Plan may decrease thus affecting the real value of any returns you may receive.

Concentration Risk

You should speak to your advisor to make sure that your investments are diversified. Investing too much into any single investment increases concentration risk.

Taxation Risk

Tax legislation may change during the life of the Deposit Plan. The tax treatment described of this Deposit depends on the individual circumstances of each Investor and may be subject to change in the future. Neither IDAD nor James Brearley provide tax advice and you should seek independent tax advice if in doubt.

This Summary does not constitute investment advice from either IDAD or the Deposit Taker and must not be construed as such by advisers or investors. Capital is subject to Deposit Taker risk. Investors should read the brochure in full and be sure they understand the terms of the product before investing. IDAD Limited is Authorised and Regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority FCA FRN 740499. No part of this publication may be reproduced, copied or distributed without the prior permission in writing of IDAD. Returns from the Deposit are at risk in the event the Deposit Taker defaults on their financial obligations. All investors should seek advice from a suitably authorised financial adviser or complete appropriateness test where relevant.
