BBVA
EUROPEAN BANKS 60-50 MEMORY INCOME REDUCING AUTOCALL

NOVEMBER 2026 FACTSHEET

Stock Note Risk Profile: There is a higher risk of large or total capital losses when Underlyings are individual Company Stocks rather than Stock Market Indices. Retail investors must seek suitable financial advice before investing.

Target Return: USD = 13.20% p.a.

Investment Description

A 4 year investment linked to the performance of four European Banking stocks.

If on any of semi-annual observation dates, including the Final Observation date, the closing levels of all the Underlyings are at or above the Income Trigger, the income will be paid plus any previously missed income payments.

This investment will autocall and mature early if all Underlyings are equal to or above the Autocall Trigger on any semi-annual observation date starting at 12 months. If early maturity occurs, full capital is returned and the investment will end. If early maturity does not occur the investment will continue to the Final Observation date.

If any Underlying is below the Capital Protection Barrier on the Final Observation date, capital return will be reduced on a 1-for-1 basis. For example, if the worst performing Underlying has fallen to 40% of its original level, 40% of the capital will be returned.

Benefits

- Opportunity for regular income payments even where the Underlyings show significant falls.
- A memory feature, whereby income previously unpaid, will be included when the income trigger is next activated.
- Autocall feature potentially shortens the investment term and is triggered by minimal growth.
- Early maturity provides an opportunity to re-assess client's wealth strategy.
- Daily pricing.

Risks

- The return is limited to the pre-defined investment terms.
- The income payment is conditional upon the Underlying performance.
- There is a higher risk of large or total capital losses when Underlyings are individual Company Stocks rather than Stock Market Indices.
- Investors will be exposed to the credit risk of the Issuer. If the Issuer becomes insolvent or cannot make the payments on the Product for any other reason, investors could lose some or all of their investment. A decline in the Issuer's credit quality is likely to reduce the market value of the Product and therefore the price an investor may receive for the Product if they were to sell them in the market.
- There is a risk to capital should one of the Underlyings breach the Capital Protection Barrier on its Final Observation date.
- Should investors need to sell their investment before maturity, the trading price will likely mean they get back less than they invested.

Rationale

Structured products are becoming increasingly popular for investors due to the wide variety of payoffs and levels of protection that can be achieved by the different types of structures that are available.

The opportunity for an income stream can be of key importance to investors as part of their wealth planning. The probability of an income payment being triggered is increased with this investment as an Underlying needs to show a fall of 40% from its initial level on any observation date before the income stream is disrupted. The investment also benefits from a memory feature so that if any income payments have missed being paid, they will catch-up the next time all Underlyings are above the Income Trigger on an observation date. The Underlyings have been selected in order to support the anticipated delivery of that income.

The autocall payoff can bring an early return of capital allowing the opportunity for a re-assessment of investment strategy. The value of this feature cannot be underestimated as it brings with it the opportunity to secure capital value, as well as the chance to take advantage of future market trends.

To manage the capital risk, a final level barrier set at 50% means an Underlying must fall by more than 50% over the full term before capital is at risk.
